Success Story

Mr. Nadeesha Koralage

Advanced Level Business Studies Tutor

Mr. Nadeesha Koralage has been one of the earliest and most valued clients of TWKY Branding, working with us since 2024. What started as a focused effort to strengthen his online presence has grown into a powerful digital ecosystem that continues to expand across multiple platforms.

Today, his brand stands as one of the most recognized Business Studies education platforms on social media in Sri Lanka.

His current audience reach reflects this growth:

Facebook community of over 213,700 followers
Instagram audience of 23,900 followers
TikTok following of 192,800 with over 10.4 million total likes
YouTube channel with 19,700 subscribers

This growth has been driven through consistent content strategy, strong storytelling, and a deep understanding of student behavior and engagement.

Performance Growth Snapshot

Over the past few months, the account has shown steady and scalable growth across all key metrics.

From December 2025 to March 2026, content performance and audience engagement improved significantly, with notable increases in reach, video views, and overall interactions across platforms.

According to the monthly insights report, total views grew from approximately 22.4 million in December to over 29.2 million in March, showing a strong upward trend in content visibility and audience reach.

Engagement across content also improved, with interactions and video consumption increasing consistently month by month. TikTok and Facebook played a major role in driving viral reach, while Instagram supported steady audience building and retention.

Follower growth also remained stable during this period, maintaining consistent increases across platforms and strengthening overall brand presence.

What Made This Growth Possible

The success of Mr. Nadeesha Koralage’s brand is built on a few key principles:

A clear and consistent content strategy tailored to students
High volume of engaging short form video content
Strong storytelling that simplifies complex business concepts
Continuous performance tracking and content optimization
Timely content aligned with academic needs and trends

The Result

Today, Mr. Nadeesha Koralage is not just a tutor on social media. He is a recognized personal brand with strong influence, high engagement, and a growing digital footprint that continues to attract and impact thousands of students every day.
